Nedlands News

Giving small business a boost

With many local small businesses re-opening their doors, the City is lending a hand by encouraging shoppers to 'Go Local First!'

You can also help by writing positive reviews online and urging others to support local business communities.

See our website for small business success stories and call us on 9273 3500 if you'd like your business profiled.

Citizenship Ceremony welcomes 22 new Aussies

With COVID-19 precautions in place, Mayor Cilla de Lacy offered a warm welcome to our most recent Australian Citizens including Mrs Anne Dawes and her children Sebastian, Alicia and Sophia, formerly from the UK.

The event was held on 17 September at the City's largest venue, John Leckie Pavilion, under social distancing rules.

Student and Tutor Art Exhibition opens at Tresillian

Now in its 19th year, this exhibition is titled 'Enduring Nature of Art' as a tribute to the outstanding talent of Tresillian students and the valuable support of their dedicated tutors.

Visitors welcome at 21 Tyrell Street, Nedlands. Exhibition runs 2 – 18 October 2020 with gallery open daily 10am – 4pm. Enrolments open now for all Term 4 courses commencing 19 October 2020.

City punching above its weight in development applications

With 110 development applications on the table and a record 17 Development Application Panel (DAP) applications currently underway, the City has been assessing and processing more DAP applications than Stirling and Wanneroo Councils combined.

This is also more than double the number of DAP applications being processed by all of our neighbouring western suburbs councils.

Although these are challenging times for the Council and Administration staff, and current indicators show this rate of applications is set to continue for some time to come, all applications will continue to receive consistently high levels of attention and consideration at all times.

Council and Committee meetings – new start time
