New turf at the dog park

Re-turfing is taking place progressively at Carrington Park dog exercise area. Section 2 will re-open Monday afternoon, December 6 with renovations complete and a cleaned sand pit. Section 1 will close for re-turfing from 6 December 2021 until the new year.

Dear Friends,

So this is Christmas 2021, and I would like to share some good news.

With a new Mayor, and some fresh councillors, the City of Nedlands is making progress in the right direction. But before we leave 2021, I would like to acknowledge former councillor Nikola Horley for her twenty years of service to the City Of Nedlands and Ms Cilla de Lacy who worked tirelessly and effectively while in her role as Mayor.

We have had a magnificent year. The sale of public assets is off the table. A zero rate rise, as well as further work to turn the City of Nedlands into a sustainable city. There have been positive forward steps in arts and culture, sport, technology, education, local business, medical, design, literature, and sustainability. I am working hard to support Nedlands as a leading community, based on values of respect and kindness. The vision is not one of dramatic change, but steady progress. This will not happen over night, but if we stay the course and work together for better long term outcomes we will see results.

Christmas is an important time, for all of us. Some of your friends and neighbours may be your extended family. So I wish you and your families a joyous and festive season, and a magnificent 2022.

Your Worship Mayor, Fiona Argyle

Have your say on Cruickshank Reserve lighting

The City is inviting community input on the design of the proposed sports floodlighting upgrade at David Cruickshank Reserve, Dalkeith. To ensure the community has a full understanding of the project, including technical details, a community drop-in session will be held at Adam Armstrong Pavilion on 8 December 2021 from 6pm to 8pm. Further information available at yourvoice.wa.gov.au

All quiet at St Johns Wood fields

Perth Glory Football Club will be moving to another location for training in 2022. As a result, temporary lighting and generators, that have been a feature of the last two seasons of training in Mt Claremont, will be removed. The reserve should be back to normal within 60 days.

City drainage survey underway

A City-wide study is currently underway to assess the capacity of existing drainage networks including infrastructure, design and construction.

A report with the findings, inclusive of recommendations, work cost estimates and a program of works, will be prepared for consideration by Council early in 2022.

Nedlands now a shot-hole-borer QA

The City of Nedlands has been identified within the Quarantine Area (QA) for the Polyphagous shot-hole borer (PSHB) but as the City has secured an approved process for kerbside green waste collection and verge pick-ups, these services will continue as usual.

Restrictions apply for individuals wishing to dispose of wood and green waste. Please refer to the City's website for up to date details.
