Mayor's Message

Greetings Residents and Ratepayers,

We are continuing to make great strides forward at the City of Nedlands. Our City is focused on attracting and retaining experienced and educated talent to deliver a higher standard of service for our community.

Residents (and trees) in Floreat will soon reap the benefits of underground power, as we progress through the first stages of the project. Without overhead powerlines our trees will be able to flourish and will not require annual pruning, meaning both our human residents and wildlife will enjoy increased canopy cover. The City's Finance team is working to prepare an Underground Power Repayment Plan for our residents impacted by this project – more information on this matter is due to be released later this month.

In community news, our city is delighted to see M'liss Henry OAM, nominated for 2025 WA Senior Australian of the Year. While M'liss has worked diligently in a service capacity with the Western Australian Riding for the Disabled Association, Ms Henry hit the headlines when the revered community worker won Nedlands Senior Community Citizen of the Year in 2024.

Many parents, grandparents and carers are in the midst of year 12 exams, and I do hope it all goes well. Our household will breathe a little easier when these exams are over.

I hope to see you all soon, possibly at the Remembrance Day service on Monday.

Please if you need to chat to the mayor, do come and see me at the office.

Yours faithfully,

Fiona E. M. Argyle

Mayor, City of Nedlands

Ephemeral Echoes at Tresillian Arts Centre

Opening event Friday 15 November, 6pm onwards

Join us for the exhibition of works by Tresillian tutor, Chen He, who teaches traditional Chinese ink and Brush painting. This body of work is from a 4 month residency in Yanche, where she responded to the ocean, the sand dunes, the beachgoers.

Chen created her own brushes from found foliage and feathers at the location and created compositions inspired by sound bites taken at the beach at various times. Featuring 50 evocative and lyrical paintings.

Exhibition 15 November - 6 December 2024,
Monday-Friday 9am-4pm & Sundays 1-4pm.
